Cleaning stove range hood filters

Last Updated: Wednesday, September 15th, 1999, Created: Tuesday, September 14th, 1999

When it comes to cleaning the heavy grease off of range hoods, a de-greaser works much better than any regular detergent. Just soak it in water and de-greaser for an hour or so and the metal will come out clean and shiny without the hard work required with simple detergents. Check the cleaning products at the renovation centre. Some are specifically identified as de-greasers.
