The Renaissance of Copper

Last Updated: Thursday, March 28th, 2013, Created: Thursday, September 14th, 2000

We spent some time talking with Brian Rand of Custom Cupola and Steeple in Oakville, Ontario about the re-emergence of copper as a building material in residential finish work and decorative pieces. They can build about anything, inside or outside the house, in copper. Like the copper "onion dome"? Did you know it takes 15 to 20 years for the patina green to show up on copper?
